The Grapevine Chamber of Commerce Hosts Specialty Event 'How To Do Business With Big Business' for Veterans, Minority and Small Business.

Grapevine, TX—Global entities, small business and veterans will convene on February 27, 2019 at the Grapevine Convention Center for the 2019 DFW Veterans Summit & Procurement Fair. Attendees will have one goal in mind – How To Do Business With Big Business.

In collaboration with Lockheed Martin and their global partners, this unique opportunity invites our business community to meet with major government and commercial contractors to discuss potential business opportunities.

Unique to this event are 'Match-Making Sessions' with these global entities. Similar to a speed-dating format, these sessions offer an opportunity for the small business owner to speak directly with procurement officers. These officers are specifically in attendance to buy products and services from small and veteran owned businesses.

The event will open with a major grant presentation by Grapevine United Charities, the charitable arm of the Grapevine Chamber of Commerce. The grant is given each year to a nonprofit entity that specifically supports veterans. The event will also include a trade show floor with vendors and resource partners, educational workshops on government contracting best practices and a Shark Tank competition for open purchase orders.

Exhibitor booth space, sponsorship packages and Summit passes are available. Veteran attendance is complimentary to all facets of the event. Lunch is provided to all paid attendees.
